We are looking for an iOS developer (m/f) to improve our Delta ("delta") medical experts' application: a clinical app to automatically analyse speech-based tests in neurocognitive assessments (e.g. Alzheimer's diagnosis).

You are:

- experienced in iOS development with Swift
- good with software engineering methodologies
- excited about user interface design
- holding a B.Sc. in Computer Science or higher
- comfortable with creatively chaotic teamwork
- (crazy about natural language processing)

We offer:

- one-year full position or half a position (20h/week)
- competitive salary
- personal office space & flexible schedule
- start-up spirit
